Taxation

The name of the business and its location are sent to the Municipal Assessment Agency. The property is then assessed by the agency and added to the City's Assessment Roll.

Businesses operating in Mount Pearl must pay business tax to the City. This tax is in addition to commercial property tax and water & sewer taxes. Businesses which operate from rented premises are also liable for business tax. Tax rates vary by the type of activity. The City also invests major capital funds for streets, recreational facilities and underground infrastructure such as water, sewer and storm sewer systems. A portion of this investment is recovered from frontage and recreation assessments and other service levies.

Prior to completing land purchases or land development, the prospective buyer should check with the City to determine the amount of assessments or levies which may be due, if any.

Mount Pearl City Council participates in the Provincial Government's Economic Diversification and Growth Enterprise (EDGE) program and will apply the incentive to all qualifying EDGE companies, as determined by the Provincial Government.

Economic Diversification and Growth Enterprise (EDGE) Program

As part of the government's goal to diversify the economy and stimulate private sector job creation, the EDGE program was created to offer substantial tax holidays and start-up assistance to new businesses starting in Newfoundland and Labrador. These incentives supplement a wide range of other support programs already available in the Province. Businesses meeting the established criteria can obtain designation as an Economic Diversification and Growth Enterprise corporation and obtain incentives such as:

- A 100% rebate on provincial corporate income tax and the provincial health & post-secondary education (payroll) tax for a period of 10 years if the business is established within the Northeast Avalon area.
- A 50% rebate on federal corporate income tax for the period referenced above.
- A further 5-year period of partial rebates on the provincial and federal taxes referenced above, declining by 20% in each year of this phase-out period.
- A 100% rebate on municipal property and/or municipal business taxes for 10 years, followed by a 5-year phase-out of such rebates.
- Access to un-serviced Crown land for $1.00 where such land is required to implement the company's business plan.

To obtain EDGE designation, an applicant must meet certain criteria. Further information about this program can be obtained from the Department of Innovation, Business and Rural Development. Decisions on all applications are made within 30 days.

Business Number

The Business Number (BN) is a numbering system that simplifies and streamlines the way businesses deal with the Federal Government. It is based on the idea of one business, one number. Not all businesses require a BN and CRA program accounts so it is important to read 'Do you need a program account?' on the CRA website before registering.

GST/HST

The GST is a tax that applies to the supply of most property and services in Canada. The provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, and Newfoundland and Labrador, referred to as the participating provinces, harmonized their provincial sales tax with the GST to create the HST. Generally, the HST applies to the same base of property and services as the GST.

Although the consumer pays the tax, businesses are generally responsible for collecting and remitting it to the government. Businesses that are required to have a GST/HST registration number are called registrants.

Registrants collect the GST/HST on most of their sales and pay the GST/HST on most purchases made to operate their business. Registrants can claim an input tax credit, to recover the GST/HST paid or payable on the purchases used in their commercial activities.

GST/HST registrants must meet certain responsibilities. Generally, they must file returns on a regular basis, collect the tax on taxable supplies made in Canada, and remit any resulting net tax owing.

Home Based Business APPENDIX

What is a Home-Based Business?

A Home-Based Business is defined as any Use taking place within a home generating revenue for the operator.

What are some examples of Home-Based Businesses?

Office Use is the primary type of Home-Based businesses in Mount Pearl. Other Uses include, but are not limited to, Construction, Electrical, Bookkeeping, Consulting, Personal Service, Education Uses, etc.

There are two types of Home-Based Businesses in Mount Pearl. They are:

1. Permitted Uses

These are basically Office Uses. As a permitted Use, these applications are processed internally and do not require public notification or Council approval.

2. Discretionary Uses

These are Uses that may generate traffic and are classified as Personal Services and Education Uses. These applications are subject to a public notification and consultation process pursuant to the Mount Pearl Development Regulations, 2010.

How do I register with the City for a Home-Based Business?

Each prospective Home-Based Business applicant is required to complete a one-page Development Application Form and forward it to the City's Planning & Development Department. The form can be viewed on the City's website: www.mountpearl.ca. When the applicant and the property owner are not the same, the signature of the property owner is required before the application can be accepted for processing.

How do I apply?

The following information is to be submitted to the Community & Development Department:

- 1. Application Form - This is comprised of three key sections:
 - a) Contact Information for applicant(s) and property owner(s), if not the same.
 - b) Application Information, including a general description of the business, days and hours of operation, amount of space being occupied within dwelling for business, number of resident & non-resident employees, proposed visitation to home due to business, parking arrangements and proposed signage.
 - c) Signature(s) of the applicant(s) and the property owner(s), if not the same.
- 2. A scaled floor plan of the dwelling illustrating the room or the area in which the Home-Based Business occurs or operates. (This can be hand-drawn.)
- 3. Legal survey of the property.
- 4. Fee – For a Permitted Use, there is no application fee. For a Discretionary Use, there is a $150.00 Discretionary Use processing fee to cover the cost of the public notice being advertised in a local newspaper.

What is involved with processing a Discretionary Use Application

Upon receipt of the Home-Based Business application, the City's Community & Development Department will arrange for the following:

- a) A public notice in the local newspaper of the proposed operation.
- b) A notice to nearby residents advising of the proposed operation.
- c) A public briefing session to permit any person or party to make comments or express concerns on the application. (Note: If no written comments are received, the public briefing session shall be cancelled.)

How long does the registration process take?

Permitted Uses are usually processed within five (5) working days. Discretionary Uses usually take 4-6 weeks for the process to be completed, as it requires advertising in the local newspaper, notification to nearby property owners and scheduling of a public briefing session.

Is a Council decision required to approve a Home-Based Business?

Council approval for a Discretionary Use application is required after the public notification process and briefing session, if required, are completed. Permitted Uses do not require Council approval.

What Regulations pertain to various categories of Home-Based Businesses?

Under the Mount Pearl Development Regulations, 2010, the following information pertains to Office, Personal Service and Educational Uses within a residential dwelling in Mount Pearl:

- a) Office Uses within a dwelling are a permitted Use within any Residential Land Use Zone and conditions are outlined below.
- b) Personal Services and Educational Uses may be permitted as a Discretionary Use in all Residential Land Use Zones (with the exception of RSU-1 and RSU-2) in a dwelling, subject to the conditions outlined below.

- Activities associated with the Use are not hazardous and do not cause a noticeable increase in traffic, noise, odour, dust or fumes and are not apparent to occupants of nearby residences.
- There is no open storage of goods or materials and any retail sales are incidental and subsidiary to the approved Use.
- No fabrication, except for the production of hand-made articles of clothing and arts and/or craft objects, will be undertaken on the premises and then only as qualified above.
- No repairs to vehicles or heavy equipment are to be carried out.
- A non-illuminated identification sign (not exceeding 0.2 square meters in area) shall be permitted, provided that the sign is consistent with the residential character of the neighbourhood.
- The residential lot has sufficient area to accommodate the parking requirements of both the dwelling unit and the office or Personal Service Use.
- No change in type, class or extent of the Use shall be permitted, except in accordance with a permit issued by Council.

Is there a business tax charged for Home-Based Businesses?

The City of Mount Pearl charges business tax based on the amount of space occupied for commercial purposes and the appropriate commercial mil rate. The minimum home-based business occupancy tax is $250.00 per year and is billed in two installments of $125.00 each in January and July.

What happens when my Home-Based Business Application is approved?

Once a Home-Based Business application is approved, the Community & Development Department issues a Development Permit. The permit is non-transferable and if the applicant moves, the permit becomes void. Should a property be sold, the purchaser does not acquire the Development Permit.

Are there other permits required?

All Home-Based Businesses also require a Commercial Occupancy Permit, issued by the Community & Development Department. The fee for this permit is $100. An inspection of the residence may be carried out prior to the issuance of an Occupancy Permit.
