Voters Encouraged to get out to the Polls Election Day is Tomorrow

MOUNT PEARL, NL – Voters in Mount Pearl head to the polls tomorrow to elect their 17th City Council.

Fifteen candidates, two for Mayor and 13 for Councillor, are vying for a seat on Council, which consists of 7 members. Mayor Randy Simms will resign after serving 28 years in municipal government, citing he would like to give others the opportunity.

“By voting, you help to choose the government leaders who decide the level and quality of services for our community. Voting is a tool to make our City more like the place you want it to be, and I encourage voters to get out to the polls,” says Mayor Simms.

More than 600 voters cast ballots in the advance poll held on Saturday, September 16, 2017.

The polls will open tomorrow, from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m in five locations across the City. Residents can check their voting location by visiting www.mountpearlvotes.ca.

Election results will be announced from Election Central at Mount Pearl City Hall. Doors are open to the public, beginning at 7 p.m. Results will also be available after the polls close at www.mountpearl.ca.
